
Error: Invalid Feed or connection error

Posted by suraj - 2008/04/29 10:13

i don't know y am getting this error "Error: Invalid Feed or connection error" when adding the rss feeds.

e.g. rss:

http://my.abcnews.go.com/rsspublic/fp_rss20.xml

<http://www.b92.net/info/rss/vesti.xml>

I can add rules, categories, setting, etc but couldn't able to rss feeds always get the same error for all type of rss feeds.

Anyone got any solution ?

Thank you,

Hi,

There is a known issue with that.

There are some possible reasons:

- 1.- The host on which the component is installed does not allow some internal functionalities of the component due to connection security, or that kind of things.
- 2.- The rss are not compatible with the actual version of the component.

Both of this issues are priority on my TODO list for the next version of the Virtual Newspaper Manager.
I am sorry for the inconvenience it may cause to you.

Regards,
Raúl.

I host with GoDaddy and am receiving the Invalid Feed or Connection Error message. Do you know if GoDaddy has the connection security that would prevent VNM from running correctly? If so, do you know how I can fix it?

Well, I have an "Economy Hosting" account at godaddy and the VNM is not working properly...so as far as I know we'll have to wait to the new version, under which I expect to improve compatibility among servers.
I'm so sorry for that :(

Hi there

Any ideas when a fix will be available?

It looks like a great component if it could be used?

Cheers

Hi, I'm the same problem with the component.

When I add a new feed, joomla give me the message: "Error: Invalid Feed or conection error".

can somebody tell me how I can fix this problem?

My version of joomla is: Joomla! 1.5.9 Production/Stable and my web site is hosting by aruba (<http://hosting.aruba.it/>).

HI Devli_is

Whilst this seems like a good component, I couldn't get it to work. I never heard from "support", so I couldnt wait any longer and had to go out and get JoomRSS. It works like I want it to, and the support is great!

Cheers
